Hone your expressive reading skills and try to fool your teachers and classmates by taking on the 'Masked Reader' challenge.

Just as contestants on ITV's 'The Masked Singer' disguise themselves in order to perform for a panel of judges, you'll need to conceal your identity using a disguise or filter.

Activity

Record a short clip of you reading an excerpt from a book, your identity concealed via a cunning disguise or stealthy filter. Concentrate on your expressive reading skills by focusing on the physical and social-emotional strands of the Oracy Framework below.

Top tip: think carefully about which book you choose to read. Could it provide your classmate with a clue to your identity? Can you link it to your disguise?

Don't forget to think about the Oracy Framework!

How will you disguise your voice? How will you alter your tone, volume and pace of speaking to convey the meaning of the text? Will you use gestures or adapt your body language to suit what you are reading?

How will you entertain your audience? How will you adapt your performance to the needs of your audience?
